Slick Spunky Firman Still Eludes Police

Gordon (Spunky) Firman, ripping a broad trail of crime across southern Ohio, slipped through a tight net in this area yesterday to continue his escapades elsewhere.

The fugitive eluded a huge manhunt covering Pickaway, Fairfield and Hocking Counties yesterday and made his way to Coshocton where he freed a companion from the county jail there at gunpoint.

Firman and his freed friend, Robert Johnson, were being hunted today in a wide area near Cadiz.

Firman's notoriety reached Pickaway County Tuesday night and yesterday morning when he attempted a burglary at the Huston Grain Co. on E. Main St., then entered three service stations in the county near Laurelville.

The pickup truck Firman and Johnson allegedly were using in their flight from Coshocton last night turned over. A car in the same area was reported stolen a few minutes later, leading officers to believe the two men are headed for Steubenville, Firman's hometown.

TWO MEN answering Firman's and Johnson's descriptions robbed an auto company in Uhrichsville during the night. Officers said the men, both armed with revolvers, grabbed $180 and jumped back into a truck and headed east on Route 250.

The search extended into Harrison County a short time later when deputies received a call that a pickup truck had turned over on a county road just east of Cadiz and that two men ran into a nearby woods.

Pickaway County Deputies worked most of Tuesday night and all day Wednesday in a desperate search for Firman. He was spotted during a burglary at the Kerr Service Station near Laurelville along with five Butler County area youths who said they were held at gunpoint as hostages.

Local deputies immediately put a description of the wanted car on the air. The auto was seen a short time later near Logan by the State Highway Patrol. A wild chase ensued, but Firman managed to escape when the car skidded near Nelsonville.

Deputy Sheriff Dwight Radcliff said Firman then stole a pickup truck in Nelsonville and retraced his trail to Laurelville. He said the daring fugitive even stopped at the same service station he had burglarized a short time before to buy gasoline and ask directions.

Deputy Radcliff said Firman then left his final mark in the Laurelville area by driving on down the road a short distance to burglarize the Paul Lively Service Station. An undetermined amount of tools were taken, the local deputy said.

The five hostages from the Butler County area said Firman held a revolver on them most of the time. They said in most instances he would force at least one of the youths to accompany him on his many burglaries and attempted entries during the night.

The youths said Firman continuously boasted of his criminal exploits and ability to cope with the law. They said he appeared to be an avid rock'n roll fan. They also described him as an excellent driver and expert shot with a pistol which was demonstrated on several occasions.

Firman, who escaped from the Coshocton County jail July 26 and got away from deputies who fired at him in a stolen truck Aug. 7, Wednesday night burst in with a gun drawn on Coshocton County Deputy Sheriff Owen Meredith at the jail. He ordered Meredith to release Johnson, one of three men who escaped with Firman last month but was recaptured when the stolen truck wrecked.

Meredith said he obeyed Firman and let Johnson out of his second floor cell. The pair then fled in a waiting car.

At about the same time, Hamilton Police Sgt. Frank Williams signed warrants charging the 21-year-old fugitive with breaking and entering and kidnapping for another escapee Tuesday night.

Fairfield County officials were searching the area west of Lancaster for a man answering Firman's description, and Pickaway County authorities were warned that he might be headed in their direction.

Miss Leist Heads Berger Hospital

Miss Ellen Leist, 106 Seyfert Ave., today took over direction of Berger Hospital.

She replaces Alva J. Williamson, administrator, who has resigned effective October 1.

Although Williamson's resignation isn't effective until October 1, he has been given a leave of absence starting today.

He will take a post in the field of hospital management in another city, as yet undisclosed.

Miss Leist has been director of nursing service. The post of superintendent of the hospital has been added to her responsibilities.

SHE IS A Circleville native and graduate of Circleville High School. Miss Leist took her nursing training at Lancaster Municipal Hospital.

Her experience includes duties at Children's Hospital, Columbus; surgical supervisor at Springfield, Mo.; assistant director of nursing service, night tour, Ohio State University Hospital; cancer research and public health service, both at OSU.

Appointment of Miss Leist to the executive post at the hospital came last night in a meeting of the Board of Governors. Williamson's resignation was accepted at that time.

Last night the Board of Governors received a letter from 11 members of the medical staff. They gave their full support to the board.

The 11 doctors wrote the board:

"We wish to give voice to the following sentiments:

"We have the utmost confidence in the Board of Governors of Berger Hospital.

"We believe Berger Hospital to be adequate and competent.

"We know the Board of Governors has an adequate and carefully planned program for the future.

"We wish to re-emphasize to the board our intention to cooperate fully in its endeavors which we so fully appreciate."

THE LETTER was signed by Drs. E. L. Montgomery, Edwin S. Shane, R. H. McCoy, Ray Carroll, F. W. Anderson, J. M. Hedges, Ned B. Griner, V. D. Kerns, H. H. Swope, W. R. Hoffman and Frank R. Moore.

Several weeks ago local Dr. Robert G. Smith told the Circleville Rotary Club that "The hospital facilities of Berger Hospital definitely are not adequate."

"The Board of Governors of Berger Hospital know that the facilities are not adequate. However, nothing is done about it."

He said the hospital "desperately needs" more beds, another operating room, storage space, relocation of labor and delivery rooms, a recovery or intensive care unit.

He called on the board to ask the public for the funds to make the improvements.

In other action last night the Board of Governors named new member Harry J. Clifton to the Finance Committee.

OHIOAN Posts Bond In Cuba Dope Probe

HAVANA (AP)—Harold Fieldman of Girard, Ohio, has posted a $5,000 bond pending trial here on charges of dealing in narcotics with Frank Cammaratta, a gangster, who formerly operated in Detroit and Youngstown, Ohio.

Court officials said Fieldman had been released from jail, but they indicated it was unlikely he would be allowed to leave Cuba until his case is concluded.

Fieldman and Cammaratta, who fled the United States to avoid deportation to his native Italy and later operated a bar in Cuba, were arrested when Cuban officials reportedly found a large cache of cocaine in Cammaratta's apartment.

Cammaratta's bail was set at $20,000. He has been unable to put it up and remains in jail.

Walnut To Vote On Zoning Law

A special ballot will be voted Tuesday, August 23, in Walnut Twp. This issue is on proposed zoning, submitted by the Walnut Twp. trustees.

Both precincts will be open, they are located at the Walnut School and the township house. A majority of affirmative votes is necessary to pass the issue.

Cuban Navy Shakeup Said To Be Certain

HAVANA (AP)—A sweeping reorganization of the Cuban navy appeared certain today in the wake of reports that the Castro brothers had smashed a naval plot against their regime.

Government silence prevented official confirmation of persistent reports that Castro agents had infiltrated a group of dissident naval officers at the Casa Blanca base across the way from Havana and uncovered a plot to revolt or defect with two of Cuba's three modern frigates.

Armed forces headquarters denied anything was amiss, but informants insisted about 300 men had been arrested on charges of plotting.

Reports that Navy chief Juan Castineira was under arrest were denied officially, but his whereabouts was a mystery.

Havana radio stations said early today that Prime Minister Fidel Castro was visiting army bases in Las Villas Province, in central Cuba. The prime minister went to Cienfuegos Monday night but the duty officer at the naval base there denied there had been any trouble.

Sources in Havana said Castro and his brother Raul, minister of armed forces, had personally led a roundup of anti-government forces in the navy.

British Defector Seen In Spy Trial Audience

MOSCOW (AP) — Friends reported today that British defector Guy Burgess has been attending the espionage trial of U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers.

Burgess, a former British Foreign Office official, reportedly has been seen sitting among the spectators dressed in a grey tweed coat and flannel slacks.

Senate Rejects GOP Wage Bill Slash Again

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate today rejected a second Republican attempt to water down Sen. John F. Kennedy's minimum wage bill.

It defeated 56-41 a substitute offered by Sen. Winston L. Prouty (R-Vt) which would have trimmed a million of the five million workers who would be brought under the law by the measure.

Prouty's proposal was much closer to the version sponsored by the Democratic presidential nominee than a substitute proposed earlier by Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois which was beaten 54-39.

The Vermont senator's amendment did not disturb the increase in the $1-an-hour wage floor to $1.25 contained in the Kennedy bill. Dirksen would have held it to $1.15.

Prouty argued his substitute amounted to a realistic compromise which would have some chance of winning House acceptance.

He said he was accepting some things in the Kennedy measure with which he did not personally agree in order to try to take a middle-of-the-road position.

Democrats contended the substitute would exempt from new coverage some of the most underpaid workers in the economy.

The Prouty substitute would have exempted from fair labor standards at coverage about 400,000 employees of auto dealers and 400,000 workers in hotels, motels and restaurants.

Under the Kennedy bill, these would be brought under the law if they were employed by an enterprise doing a million dollars worth of business a year.

The Senate rejected Wednesday an amendment by Sen. Spessard L. Holland (D-Fla) which would have exempted all retail establishments and added only about 280,000 workers to the wage-hour law's coverage. The vote was 56-39.

Then a similar 54-39 vote defeated a Republican substitute measure offered by Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois. It would have increased the minimum wage to $1.15 an hour, and extended limited coverage to between 1,800,000 and two million new workers.

Some of today's votes were likely to be closer than the initial roll calls. Backers of the Kennedy measure were not certain they could defeat one amendment advanced by Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla) which would make a relatively mild cut in the bill's coverage provisions.

Negotiations on the Democratic side still were under way when the Senate quit Wednesday night. It was possible a compromise on the new coverage would be worked out.

The Monroney proposal would reduce the coverage to about 3,800,000 with all of the cut in the retail and service fields.

Congolese Attack U.N. Aides As Lumumba Snubs U.S. Envoy

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP)—Congolese soldiers attacked members of a Canadian United Nations detachment at Leopoldville airport today, apparently mistaking them for Belgians. The captain commanding the Canadian detachment was knocked unconscious.

At about the same time, the United States ambassador was being blocked off by an armed Congolese soldier from keeping an appointment with Premier Patrice Lumumba. The Premier reinforced the snub later by ignoring the ambassador at an outdoor ceremony.

A Congolese delegation, meanwhile, headed for New York to present the Congo's case to the United Nations Security Council. It included one known pro-Westerner.

The Canadians attacked at the airport were part of a signal detachment about to take off from Luluabourg in a United Nations plane.

Earlier, Lumumba renewed his threat to invade Katanga province if the United Nations fails to bring that secessionist regime under control of his central government.

Lumumba voiced his threat at a news conference Wednesday as U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld was back at U.N. headquarters in New York seeking support in the Security Council for his hands-off policy toward the new African republic's internal disputes.

Lumumba said his army could enter Katanga alone and "finish the problem in a week." But he threatened to seek help from "a country disposed to help us." Possibly he meant Ghana, or even the Soviet Union, from which Lumumba has threatened to seek military help before.

Lumumba also demanded that Hammarskjöld, if he returns to the Congo, bring with him the 14-nation team of Asian-African observers that the premier previously demanded supplant the secretary general in control of the U.N. operation in the Congo.

The Congolese premier last threatened an invasion of Katanga on Aug. 9, when he was also pressing for action from the United Nations.

Nixon Challenged In Kennedy Attack

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Vice President Richard M. Nixon returned from his first campaign trip to the South today to face a Democratic storm of anger over a Republican attack on Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts.

Sen. Gale W. McGee (D-Wyo) said he would call on Nixon, the Republican presidential nominee, to clear up whether "he endorses or repudiates this kind of attack."

The attack was launched on the Senate floor Wednesday night by Sen. Hugh Scott (R-Pa). He said the Kennedy family was trying to outbid the government on a project to help African students come to the United States.

Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee, said Scott's speech was "the most unfair, distorted, malignant attack I have experienced in 14 years in politics."

Nixon's first vote hunt in the South was a quick flight to Greensboro, N. C., where he surprised a crowd of more than 12,000 Wednesday night by speaking out on civil rights.

The ardor of most of his listeners diminished as he called for progress in civil rights. But there was more applause when he added: "I recognize that law alone is not the answer."

Nixon told newsmen later he did not intend to "avoid or soft soap the civil rights issue" in his trips to the South.

Kennedy and Nixon expressed themselves on foreign policy issues Wednesday.

Kennedy wrote Rabbi Israel Goldstein, honorary vice chairman of New York's Liberal party, that the first step in bringing peace to the Middle East would be a conference of the contending states.

If elected president, Kennedy said he would try to "demonstrate to the nations of the Middle East our genuine desire to provide the conditions for a just and mutually beneficial modus vivendi."

Nixon, in an article for the weekly London American, called for a new era of creative U. S. British leadership to meet Soviet challenges.

"The first need is not for vast sums of money or for formal programs," he wrote. "But there is a need, right now, for imagination and energy and initiative."

West Europe Likes Powers

Sympathy Is Won By Flier on Trial

LONDON (AP) — The courtroom conduct of U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers on the first grueling day of his Moscow trial won him the sympathy of an even admiration of many of West Europe's newspapers. They pictured the young American flier as a luckless casualty in the cold war.

Many West European observers also felt the early pattern of the espionage trial confirmed their opinion that the whole thing was a well-staged propaganda show, with U.S. policy rather than Powers as the target of the Soviet prosecutors.

Most newspapers, including many with their own correspondents attending the trial, were convinced there had been no attempt to brainwash Powers.

Britain's Daily Telegraph said Powers was in the unprecedented position of a secret agent who had been acknowledged by his principals.

"Given this fact, and assuming he was right in assisting the court at all, the American plot was magnificent," the Conservative newspaper said.

All over Western Europe reports of the trial were carried under banners in big type stretching over several columns.

"Powers confessed quietly and with dignity," said the headline of a Copenhagen newspaper.

Another Danish paper described the trial as "a big Soviet propaganda show with a small super-numerary in the leading role."

Il Messaggero, Rome's biggest independent morning paper, termed the trial a "sad comedy." Its front-page editorial declared: "The Powers trial is not a legal process. It is a show."

France's independent Parisien carried its report under the headline: "Powers does the best he can before the Soviet judicial machine."

3 Negroes Held For Beating White

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—Police have jailed three members of a gang of Negro boys present at the beating of a white boy on charges of felonious assault. Officials said the other members of the gang, numbering 16 to 20 boys, are expected to be questioned or charged.

The victim of the beating was Freddie Tipton, 16, of near Ironton, Ohio. Police said Tipton suffered a shoulder injury, bruises and abrasions and lost two front teeth in the beating which occurred while he was leaving an all-star high school football game in Charleston Saturday night.

Tipton told police the gang jumped him while he walked toward a bus stop. Sgt. Arlie Robinson said the questioning indicated that, before the beating, an auto filled with white boys passed the group of Negroes and the whites had shouted obscene remarks. The Negroes started for the car but it sped away.

Powers Tells Russians He Obeyed Orders

MOSCOW (AP)—Francis Gary Powers' Russian defense attorney expressed hope today the Soviet military court trying the American U2 pilot will be lenient with him.

The attorney, Mikhail I. Griniov made the comment as the trial ended its second day with testimony of Soviet experts who attacked Powers' contention that he was only a pilot acting under orders and not a true spy.

Griniov told Powers' family he based his hope for leniency on the pilot's behavior during his trial, together with his expressed regret and repentance over the May 1 flight that landed him in Russian hands, 1,200 miles inside the Soviet Union.

Griniov is a court-appointed attorney, and the informal view he expressed could reflect official Soviet thinking.

The Moscow radio was telling its listeners today that Powers shows signs of true repentance, and "this makes a clear distinction between him and those who sent him."

In questioning today Lt. Gen. Victor Borisoglebsky, chairman of the three-judge military court, brought from Powers the comment that he thought he had done the United States a disservice by the U2 flight.

Powers listened, largely with his arms folded and little change of expression, to testimony of Soviet investigators on technical aspects of his plane's equipment and purpose. They charged the flight was planned, premeditated and aggressive.

The flier challenged two of the experts.

He disputed the testimony of Lt. Col. Yuri Tyufillin that he flew a plane without American national identification marks.

Powers insisted it was quite possible his plane once had markings and that they might have been covered over by paint.

"I always saw it with identification marks," he said.

The Russian expert was obliged to agree that marks might have been painted out, but stood on the findings of the investigators that the U2 never had carried national identification numbers.

This was intended to shake Powers' claim that the plane he flew might have had markings which he did not happen to see when he took off in Pakistan for a high-altitude dash across the Soviet Union.

Konstantin Voroshilov, a gun expert, showed the court an incendiary device and Powers interrupted again.

"I don't have a question, but I would like to make a statement," he said.

He showed from the directions on the box that the incendiary device was intended simply to light a campfire if he was forced down in the wilderness.

Referring to a .22 caliber pistol he was carrying when captured, Powers said:

"The pistol was given to me only for hunting. It is too bad that nobody but me knows that I can't kill a person even to save my own life."

Dr. Victor Ilich Prazorovski, a medical expert, testified the poison needle carried by Powers killed a dog in three minutes and a mouse in 20 seconds.

The poison, he said, was one of the curare group such as South American Indians use on blowgun darts.

"It is one of the most potent and quick-acting poisons," he said. "Our commission concluded that if a human being were pricked by this needle death would set in as swiftly as with animals."

Powers had testified that the needle was given him in Pakistan and it was up to him whether he should use it. He said it was intended for use only if he was tortured and the torture became unbearable.

Prosecutor Roman Rudenko's first questions of the day were aimed at undercutting the Pakistani government's denial of any knowledge of Powers' flight, which originated from an air base at Peshawar, Pakistan.

Translation Lag Dangerous

There is an alarming dearth of American knowledge of scientific achievements of the remainder of the world. This ignorance is compounded by a major void in translating foreign scientific publications and making them available to America's scientific and engineering professions for study.

Journalists, educators and political leaders who have surveyed the two-way street of scientific information flowing from the two major world science powers, the United States and the Soviet Union, have concluded that it is used almost exclusively by the Russians.

Few science publications of merit are released in this country that do not immediately become the subject of review by Soviet translators and technicians. Everything from business magazines with science articles to complete blueprints and descriptions of the latest patents (which, incidentally, are available to the Russians from the patent office and are used extensively by them) are collected and digested for scraps of new knowledge.

Conversely, the United States has no Program of research into happenings in other countries. With the exception of a few pet journals reviewed by individuals and private laboratories, little of the information available from the Soviet Union is seen by the men who must keep abreast of rapid developments if the U. S. is not to become a second-rate science nation.

Volume of material available in the United States can not be matched by the Soviet Union, and accessibility in Russia leaves much to be desired. But it has been estimated that no more than 75 of 5,000 Russian journals are translated in the United States and England, plus some occasional articles.

Preliminary glimpses of the first Soviet sputnik were available to the world in a Russian radio publication. The propaganda value gained by that first satellite could have been cushioned by a forewarning that such an event was about to occur.

Are other achievements, of which the West is not aware, currently being described in publications that are ignored?

What becomes of the money you save every year during the summer months on coal, oil or gas?

Business Sees Rare Diseases

NEW YORK (AP)—There are at least 365 recognized medical ailments, one for each day of the year.

But in the modern U. S. business world there are a number of other diseases science has never named. They probably cause more lost time and wasted money—than all the illnesses mentioned in a medical dictionary.

Here are a few of these mysterious maladies you can probably find in your own office:

"One-day pneumonia"—Familiar to every personnel director as a synonym for a hangerover. Usually strikes on Monday. Victim makes miraculous recovery during day and shows up Tuesday morning chirping like a bluebird.

"Afternoon sickness"—Patient has three martinis and a paraffin for lunch. Snores at desk until quitting time.

"Petty cash aphasia"—The new office boy suddenly trembles and becomes speechless when questioned about $3.58 shortage in the stamp drawer.

"Daily doubtitis"—A gnawing compulsion by employee to go to nearest pay phone to call bookie each afternoon shortly before start of first race at nearest horse track.

"Foot-in-mouth disease"—The junior executive who compliments the boss on his 64th birthday by saying, "Just one more to go, eh chief?"

"Sinecure syndrome"—The state of utter panic experienced by the office goof-off when he learns the firm has hired an efficiency expert.

"Morning stupor"—A cerebral haze which grips approximately half of entire staff until they get 10:30 a.m. coffee break.

"The 5:15 p.m. myopia"—This malady makes it impossible for the stenographer to discover any misspelled words in any letter she finishes just before quitting time.

"Post-vacation trauma"—Characterized by a vacant look and an inability to settle down into the old rut. Usually disappears after a week or two. If it doesn't, the employee disappears.

Still Land of Opportunity

A correspondent writes on a postcard:

"Here is a phase of American life, a child sees his parents living in dark dingy rooms. The parents are doing their best. Then you read of all the (swells) with several homes something like yourself. I think this system is rotten; the same applies to many other things. What do you think?"

There is nothing rotten about the system. The writer of this card objects to anyone having more than he has. My father, I am sure, had as little or less. He was a holy man whose earnings were limited by religious impediments. There were too many things he could not, in conscience, do, but which others, of different religions, could, in conscience do. These limitations prevented our family from becoming wealthy, although we were, on the whole happy.

My father could have gone in for cloaks and suits or manufacturing pants or being a butcher. Many of those whom we knew in my childhood became enormously wealthy from such lowly beginnings. I knew of a tailor who became a banker and a butcher who became a chicken king.

In fact, my father lent the latter five dollars to start him in business and he became enormously rich out of that five dollars that my father lent him. How, is another story. But, in the end, his competitors bombed him because he used to undersell them by feeding the chickens gravel and water in New Jersey. My father was never bombed—perhaps because he never did very much.

Nevertheless, we all managed to live—there were nine of us in the family, including our parents. None of us ever became very wealthy, but we managed. And if this reader objects to my owning a farm, in addition to living in a New York City tenement, I can only tell him that I have worked many years since I got my first Summer job at the age of 10 and have never found that the system interfered with my opportunities until recently, when the income tax began to take too much of my earnings.

Naturally, I do not know my correspondent and therefore do not know what psychological or physical impediments prevent him from making out. This is still the land of opportunity as anyone must know who works at it.

For instance, lots of folks make a fuss over Leonard Bernstein, but he was not born of the Rockefeller or Astors. His father was a small self-employed merchant in Lawrence outside of Boston and Bernstein achieved his enormous success by working hard and learning much.

Ah! My correspondent will probably say: "Bernstein has great talent but I am a common, ordinary person." Every man has some gift that God gave him. So many do not take advantage of their gifts or their opportunities.

Look at Richard Nixon, now running for President. His father was a small town grocer who had never done too well. Dick tended store and poured gasoline into automobiles and when I first met him I am sure that his suit came from one of those stores that give two pair of pants with each suit.

And now, he is a great man, Vice President of the United States. And there is a chance for the rich man, too, although there was a time in this country when if a man was not born in a log cabin, he could not run for President. Our prejudice against the born rich has lessened. In this campaign year, Kennedy and Johnson are wealthy, and Henry Cabot Lodge comes of a family of great distinction and social prestige. The prejudice against the rich no longer excludes them from opportunity.

My correspondent is all wrong. This is still the land of great opportunity for those who will work hard, who will build mind and character, who will take advantage of what is offered them.

The scourge, the sorehead, the man who prefers his hates to his blessings, will, of course, get nowhere. That is reasonable.

If my correspondent should happen to be a Negro—I cannot, of course, tell—I can only call his attention to the fact that one of the greatest statesmen in the world to date, recognized by every government for his merit and his achievements is Ralph Bunche, an American Negro who might one day be Secretary of State.

LAFF-A-DAY

Develop Educated Appetite

By Herman N. Bundesen, M. D.

Don't diet in vain. Learn to educate your appetite.

Once you reach your desired weight, you must maintain it. Otherwise your dieting won't have done much good.

As a rule, the long-term approach to dieting produces the best results.

If you can maintain your normal or desired weight for six months to a year following a dieting program, you have the weight problem pretty well licked.

Statistics show that anyone who watches his weight this long is apt to remain trim and slim for some time.

By this time you should have educated your appetite. You should know the foods that are good for you and your waistline.

For example, eat poached eggs instead of fried eggs. Choose broiled chicken instead of fried chicken or chicken a la king.

If you like strawberries for dessert, select a bowl of fresh ones instead of eating them as strawberry shortcake.

If you like a cocktail before lunch or dinner, omit dessert.

Learn to substitute the nourishing low-calorie foods for the high calorie variety. It won't be long before you will find it perfectly natural to select them. What's more, you will prefer them.

An educated appetite merely means that you practice good food habits. It doesn't mean that you necessarily have to give up your practice of eating a snack before bedtime. It does mean that the calorie content must be deducted from other meals.

Try to deduct similar items, dessert for dessert, bread for bread, etc. That way you won't upset the nutritional value of your menus.

Finally, weigh yourself once a week. Your scale and your mirror, more than anything else, will help keep you calorie-conscious.

Question and Answer
Mrs. L. M.: Is it safe for a family with a baby to live in the same house with a person who has been discharged from a tuberculosis sanitarium?

Answer: A tuberculosis patient discharged from a sanitarium may still have active disease or it may be completely arrested.

The danger to baby depends on the patient's condition, which can be learned from the sanitarium.

In this case it might be advisable to give this baby BCG vaccine to prevent tuberculosis.

Consult your doctor on this point.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—Since this is the foot-in-the-door period of American history, that may be the kind of medical care program for the aged Congress will produce in 1960.

In time of national crisis, urgency and emergency, you can look to Congress for fast, drastic and far-reaching legislation. When the country is prosperous, as it is now, and pressures are mild, Congress gets cautious and conservative.

It limits itself pretty much to foot-in-the-door legislation which, while it may set out down a new road, won't be extreme. What it does is open the door for more extensive legislation later, usually bit by bit.

Congressional action under crisis and pressure was demonstrated in the New Deal days of the 1930s when the country was stopped dead by depression and Congress passed the social security law, the 40-hour week, the Wagner labor act.

Under the stimulus of the Supreme Court's 1954 decision outlawing public school segregation, Congress in 1957 passed the first civil rights act of the 20th century.

This was a comparatively mild piece of legislation which, while it angered white Southerners, left Negroes and northern liberals displeased because it didn't go further.

This was the typical foot-in-the-door type of legislation when there was no national emergency. It was hardly more than a beginning. But it opened the door for more action later.

This year Congress passed another civil rights act, still rather mild and limited. No doubt it will be followed in the years ahead by more civil rights legislation, each piece opening the door a little further.

For several years the idea of providing some kind of medical care for the 16 million people who are aged 65 and over has been a national consciousness and in Congress.

It has taken two main directions:

Teacher Union Raps Congress Red Probers

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The American Teachers Federation has passed a resolution calling for the abolishment of the House Un-American Activities Committee.

The resolution was one of seven adopted at the AFL-CIO Group's convention.

The federation called for abolition of the Un-American Activities Committee on the grounds that California hearings by the committee have resulted in "irrevocable loss of dignity, reputation and jobs of many California citizens, especially probationary teachers."

The other resolutions passed were:

Encouragement of federal and state legislation and local action to establish new junior colleges and to strengthen and expand the curricula of existing ones.

Organization of a mass lobbying delegation to be sent to Washington to dramatize to Congress "the imperative need for extensive federal aid to America's schools."

Introduction of legislation to make kindergartens part of tax-supported public school systems in all communities.

Urging the federal government to set aside one dollar a year per school pupil for a scholarship fund to use for qualified young people denied the opportunity of a college education because of inadequate funds.

1. Provide medical care for most people over 65—since most retired people's income is a lot less than when they worked—with the program paid for by a slight boost in the social security tax. This would mean a broad health insurance program for older people.

2. Provide a much narrower program by letting the states set up their own individual plans, with the federal government chipping in—through grants—to help pay the cost. This is the mild approach and would cover far fewer people than those who would be affected under No. 1.

Last June the House passed the No. 2 kind of bill, estimated to benefit perhaps 500,000 to one million people a year. Then it was up to the Senate to act. But in between times came the political conventions.

The Democratic platform called for the No. 1 kind of program, with most older people entitled on a wide scale to health insurance paid for in their working years through the added social security tax.

The Republican platform was extremely vague but can be listed under the No. 2 type of program: federal grants to states which would set up their own programs. They probably would vary from state to state.

Although the Democratic candidates—Sen. John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson—backed the kind of program promised in their party platform, they soon ran into a bottleneck.

The Senate Finance Committee cleared for action by the full Senate a medical care program which fell far short of the Democratic platform promise. Its bill was similar to the one passed by the House in June.

There will be a fight on the medical care program before this session of Congress ends. Perhaps the Kennedy-Johnson forces will win. More likely the result will be a mild, limited compromise.

But once such a program is passed it becomes a foot in the door for broader legislation later, if only a bit at a time.

Labor Day Events Schedule Released

A Labor Day Celebration will be held at the Kingston Ball Park in Kingston, sponsored by the Kingston, Green Twp., and Pickaway Twp. Volunteer Fire Department, on September 5.

According to Charles Nichols, reporter for the volunteer fire department, the day's festivities will begin at 10 a. m., with a Little League Baseball game.

At noon a Horse Pulling Contest will be featured with 10 cash prizes and two trophies to be awarded. Bicycle and Tricycle races will be held at 2 p. m. for children 3 to 12 years old. At 5 p. m. a Western Contest Show will be sponsored by the Rocky Knob Western Horseman Ass'n.

There will be many contests for all to enter, both young and old in this contest-show.

Highlighting the evening will be professional wrestling, featuring Leon Graham. The second event will be ladies wrestling.

Music for the "all-day fish fry" will be furnished by the Kingston High School Band.

Route 23 Section To Be Re-Paved

The Ohio Department of Highways has announced that resurfacing contracts for a short section of US Route 23 and two sections of State Route 317, Hamilton Road in Columbus and Whitehall will be opened at the Tuesday August 23 bid letting session in Columbus.

One-half mile of Route 23 at the south edge of Columbus will be resurfaced. The first section of Route 317 is at the Route 33 intersection. The second portion begins at Refugee Road and extends 2.7 miles on Route 40 in Whitehall.

Estimated cost of the three sections is $132,400, including right of way and engineering. Completion date is set for November of this year.

Nancy To Host Canada Queen

Miss Nancy Huffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Huffman, Harrisburg, is the 1960 Ohio Short-horn Lassie queen.

In keeping with the theme of the 1960 Ohio State Fair, "Hands Across the Border," the Ohio Lassie Queen has invited Miss Carolyn Guardhouse, Canada's Lassie Queen, to be her guest during the week of the fair.

Carolyn, 17, was in grade 13 at Milton, Ont., High School last term, and has many extra-curricular activities to her credit. In addition to being president of the student Council, she has completed her fifth year in 4-H work, and is a member of the Junior Farmers.

One of Carolyn's duties while attending the fair will be the crowning of the new Ohio Short-horn Lassie Queen on Tuesday at 1:00 p. m.

The five district queens, who were selected at the annual short-horn picnic, will meet before the judges at the Harrison home at 4:00 p. m. The name of the new queen will be disclosed at the crowning on Tuesday, August 30.

Long Way From Home

STERLING, Colo. (AP) — For decades people here wondered what kind of flowering tree grows in the courthouse square. Asst. County Agent Bob Coisant got so many inquiries about the tree, believed planted around the turn of the century, he sent a branch to D. H. D. Harrington, University of Colorado botanist.

Dr. Harrington drew this conclusion: The tree is a member of the family sapindaceae native to northern China. Genus is xanthoceras, and the species is sorbifolia.

GOP Women Plan For Fall Conference

Pickaway County Women's Republican Club met for an afternoon tea Monday in the home of Miss Gladys Vause, Lockbourne. Gladiolas and summer floral arrangements decorated the home.

Pledge to the flag was followed by all repeating the Lord's Prayer. Mrs. H. O. Caldwell, president, conducted the business meeting, taking care of past, as well as of all future business, before hearing the report from the Republican National Convention, by Mrs. Wilbur Gillespie. Letters were also read from Republican headquarters.

It was announced that the fall conference of the Ohio Federation of Republican Women's Organizations will be held in Columbus on October 6 to 8.

Candidates who were present gave talks regarding the November election.

In September the Pickaway County Club has been invited to meet at Williamsport.

The hostess, Miss Vause, assisted by Mrs. H. O. Caldwell, Mrs. Vause Blake, Miss Lucille Blake and Mrs. E. A. Payne, served refreshments to 30 members.

Miss Joy Trone Wins Central Ohio Contest

Miss Joy Trone, daughter of Mrs. Vera Trone, Ashville, won fourth place in the Miss Central Ohio contest held Sunday at Buckeye Lake Park, from a field of about 165 contestants.

Miss Trone won a $95 modeling course, free dance course, silver trophy, cosmetics, and orchid and free dinner tickets for her family and guests that evening.

Those who attended the dinner held in the Marine Room for the queen and her court were: her mother, Mrs. Vera Trone, Allen Daft, Mrs. Gretchen Featheringham, Miss Janet Bausum and Mrs. Jane Bausum.

Ashville Women Attend Luncheon

Mrs. Elinor Flierl and Mrs. Jane Bausum, Ashville, attended a luncheon at Lincoln Lodge Columbus, August 11 as guests of the Ohio Federated Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Flierl is serving as district chairman of Indian Affairs and Mrs. Bausum, as district chairman of Veteran Affairs. Both are members of the Ashville Women's Civic Club.

Avoid Appearance of Evil

DEAR ABBY: My husband stays home just long enough to eat, sleep and change his clothes. Our children hardly ever see him. This has been going on for ten years.

Last month I thought I heard a prowler so I called the police. A police officer came and offered to stay with me until I got over my nervousness. I made coffee and we had a wonderful visit. He's a big, good-looking bachelor, but it isn't what you think. I don't cheat on my husband even though he cheats on me.

This policeman has been dropping in for coffee every night around midnight. Only someone who is as lonely as I was can realize what his visits mean to me. I have heard that my neighbors are beginning to talk. Should I explain that this is an innocent, clean friendship? Or do you think I am doing wrong?

LONELY

DEAR LONELY: You'll have a hard time convincing your neighbors that there is nothing brewing but coffee at your house every night. Your relationship may be "clean and innocent" now, but you're asking for trouble. The Good Book says, "Avoid the appearance of evil". Use your energy to lure your husband back where he belongs.

DEAR ABBY: A few weeks ago my husband and I gave his niece a very lovely present for her 17th birthday. We took a lot of time selecting this gift, and also the card that went with it. The niece just said, "Thank you" and she laid it on the piano and didn't bother to open the card or present while we were there. We stayed about an hour.

Shouldn't a gift be opened when the givers present it?

HURT

DEAR HURT: It should.

DEAR ABBY: When a man and his wife are eating together in a restaurant, what should the man call the waitress?

My husband calls all the waitresses "Honey" and I have even heard him call them "Dear" and "Darling". This burns me up as he calls me Hazel. Please print your answer. I'd like to settle this.

HAZEL

DEAR HAZEL: A waitress should be called "Miss" or "Waitress". It is never proper (although it is sometimes effective) to call a waitress "Honey" "Dear" or "Darling". But it does beat, "Hey, you!"

CONFIDENTIAL TO KATHY: The surest way to make a man wonder what he ever saw in you is to keep asking him.

If you want a personal reply from Abby, write to her in care of this paper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. She answers ALL letters.

This good European salad should be better known among American cooks: cooked diced potatoes, carrots and beets plus green peas mixed with home-made mayonnaise.

Homework Season Is Coming! Here's How To Help Student

When school comes, can homework be far behind? It's a wise parent who prepares himself and his child for a school year that will surely include much work at home designed to supplement and broaden work done in the classroom.

Unfortunately, says the National Education Assn., homework too often is a fighting word to some parents.

One mother says she "curses the day Sputnik flew." (She thinks her son is being overloaded with homework.) Another wants "my child to have homework at least once a week so I can check their lessons and see how they're doing." A third (after struggling for an entire week end helping Jimmy with a chart of the 12 zodiac) wonders wearily just who is being benefited by this homework: an a fourth confides, "We want to help with homework, but we're afraid too."

If you're like most parents, however, you favor homework, provided it's reasonable in amount, geared to your child's abilities, really teaches him something, and is of a type that doesn't throw the whole household into a tizzy.

Most schools take these points into account, according to the National Education Association. You'll find teachers assigning children original research projects perhaps to answer questions that come up and can't be answered in busy class time.

AS ONE THIRD - grade teacher said, "Research of this kind is like a game. We have acquired information on everything from kraals and cantilevered porches to butter molds and grinding stones. When a child turns up a bit of hard-to-find information and brings it to class, we all beam."

Another frequent kind of assignment for the child is to collect information from you and the rest of the family. For example, one teacher asked the class to bring to school a list of all their family's arithmetic problems for one week (parents' eyes were opened on this one, they didn't realize how much arithmetic they used every day).

A third kind of homework turns up when children working on creative writing or writing reports want more time than they have in class to elaborate on or revise their efforts.

In other words, most schools feel that homework should be an extension, not of the school day, but of learning activity, with assignments that can be done better away from school.

You can help by giving your child a quiet corner that can be his homework island of peace and concentration. You may need to be firm, too, in eliminating some of the distractions that interfere with getting homework done including TV and little sisters.

And if you don't understand the school's homework policy and why you can help on scrapbooks, but not on subtraction, go have a talk with your child's teacher. She'll be glad to explain.

Prison Honor Camp In Dayton Pondered

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Officials of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction will visit Dayton State Hospital next Wednesday to study the possibility of setting up a prison honor camp there.

M. C. Koblenz, chief of the department's Division of Correction, said a study at Gallipolis State Institute indicates a 30 - inmate camp could be set up there by November, if the State Controlling Board makes $36,000 available for equipment operations and guards. Hawthornden State Hospital near Akron, another possible honor camp site, will be studied this fall, he said.

10 New Teachers Employed For Circleville Schools

Ten new teachers will be on the teaching staff of Circleville City Schools on the opening day, August 30. The new teachers were hired during the course of the summer to fill vacancies and to meet increased enrollment requirements.

Herbert Barrett Jr., Paintsville, Ky., will teach commercial arithmetic and consumer education. He received his degree from Trinity University and has four years teaching experience.

Paul Doles, 132 Pontius Lane, received his degree in education from Dayton University. He will teach eighth grade American History.

Mrs. Jean E. Kelley, Route 5, Chillicothe; B.S. in Education from Ohio University; two years experience; she will teach kindergarten at Franklin-Mound Elementary.

John Minch, Route 1, Groveport; B.S. in Education from Otterbein

College; he has a heavy major in chemistry from Ohio State University; experience in the U.S. Army as an instructor; he will teach chemistry and general science.

MRS. Annabell Mowery, Route 3, Circleville; Capital University; 26 years teaching experience; she will teach an advanced grade six.

Mrs. George Roth, Route 2, Circleville; received her training at Virginia Intermont and Ohio University; she will serve as a traveling teacher at Atwater, Franklin and the South Court Street School.

Walter T. Sale, W. 131 Mound S.; master's degree in American literature from Columbia University; he has 13 years teaching experience and will teach eleventh year English, plus two classes of college preparatory English.

Paul Smith, Ironton; B.S. in Education from Greenville, College; he will teach geography, grade seven.

Mrs. Helen Wachs, 832 N. Court; she has a master's degree from Ohio University; eight years teaching experience; she is employed temporarily for English, grade 8.

Robert Wellington, 508 Springholow Road; will receive his B.S. in Education soon from Ohio University; he will be teacher of speech and hearing therapy.

Old CHS Gymnasium Converted To Make Room for Large Class

The old Circleville High School gymnasium was converted into a study hall this summer. A double set of steps was constructed for access and new fluorescent lighting was installed.

The new make-shift study quarters will seat over 200 pupils on new desk-chairs purchased for the expansion program.

The old study hall on the third floor of the school was divided into two classrooms. Mrs. Elizabeth Musser will occupy one of the rooms with English classes and Walter T. Sale will occupy the other room also with English classes.

According to Superintendent George Hartman, the wave of enrollment rolling through the school, will require more than the conversion of a gymnasium into a study hall to accommodate pupils next year.

The high school will continue this rapid growth for the next three years as small classes of approximately 100 pupils graduate and large classes of 200 pupils move into grade nine.

Day Reserved For Latecomers

Tuesday morning, August 30, has been reserved for late registrants in kindergarten. Pupils already registered for kindergarten will not report to school on this date.

Both morning and afternoon pupils will come for just one hour each day on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of the first week of school. Beginning Tuesday, September 6, morning kindergarten pupils will be at school from 8:30 until 11 a. m., afternoon pupils from 12:45 until 3:15 p. m.

Talks To Long

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Sen. Robert S. Keer (D-Okla.) spoke 45 minutes before the Assn. of University Women. At the end he said: "I had not intended to talk this long, but I'd have been disappointed if I hadn't."

THE HIGH school is two rooms short of what is necessary for most efficient instruction. Larger classes had to be scheduled this year because of the two-room shortage.

Each fall, for the next three years, the high school will be one more classroom short of what is needed.

Slow Tunes to Jazz

MANMOUTH, Maine (AP) — From Gilbert & Sullivan's lilting tunes to modern jazz is quite a switch. But that's what's happening at Cumston Hall this summer.

For seven seasons, ending last year, the Victorian style theatre housed America's leading G & S company — the American Savoyards. Soon, however, the jazz beat will be bouncing off the walls in a two-week "Maine Jazz Festival" featuring a sextet led by composer-pianist Paul Knopf.

City Schools Open Aug. 30

City School Superintendent George Hartman released the school calendar for the coming year, last week.

School opens August 30, at 8:30 a. m. Labor Day will be the first holiday of the year, September 5. A teacher's meeting will be held September 16, no school. City schools will recess October 20, 21 for the Pumpkin Show, November 11, no school, Veteran's Day. Thanksgiving vacation, November 24, 25, and Christmas vacation will begin December 19.

School reopens January 3; February 13, celebration of Lincoln's birthday; March 31, Good Friday; April 1, Easter Monday; May 29, teacher's meeting, and Memorial Day, May 30.

THE RIGHT THING — Some clothes are just right for certain occasions. This outfit from The Deb Shop is just right for two things — date and school. Terry Trone, 17, senior at Circleville High School, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Campbell, 280 Sunset Drive, wears a green wool jerkin and skirt set, white blouse. For study or steady, it's right.

110 Teachers, Schoolmen on City Staff

A total of 110 teachers and administrators will compose the Circleville City School staff this coming year, according to George Hartman, city school superintendent.

Last week Hartman said, "This year Circleville will have a new high record enrollment in the kindergarten and first grade. It was necessary to add another teacher in grade one, making eleven first grade teachers."

"The pupil-teacher ratio will run well above 30 pupils per teacher. In 1955-56 we had an average pupil-teacher ratio of 37 pupils per teacher. We were able to lower the ratio to 30 pupils when we opened the new buildings in the fall of 1956. Now we are on the way back to overcrowded classrooms, facing a pupil-teacher ratio this year of approximately 32 pupils per teacher."

Hartman also announced that all city school principals will have a short meeting on the first day of school in his office at 7:30 a. m.

Superintendent Hartman said he found some vacancies difficult to fill to get a complete staff. Teachers of English, math, and science were especially very difficult to find, he declared.

Soviet Scientist Hails U.S. Effort

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—A leading Soviet astronomer says American radar contacts with Venus and Mars are paving the way for the first space flights to the two planets.

Prof. Alexander Mikhallov, 72, head of the Pulkovo Observatory near Leningrad, praised American research methods to prove the position of the two planets nearest to earth.

Mikhallov told a reporter Tuesday that the problem of finding the correct position of Venus is one of the main obstacles for sending an automatic space vehicle in an orbit around that planet. English-speaking Mikhallov said such a space probe with a camera and television-equipped space vehicle was his life dream.

Pennsy Rail Strike Set for Sept. 1

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Transport Workers Union today called a systemwide strike on the Pennsylvania Railroad for 12:01 a.m. Sept. 1.

Michael J. Quill, international president of the TWU, said negotiations with America's largest railroad and the 20,000 nonoperating employees he represents "had broken off."

A brief negotiating meeting had been held today, but it did not solve the dispute over working conditions which had been going on for some three years.

Louis XIV ruled France for 72 years between 1643 and 1715, the longest reign in modern history.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Roast beef and chicken are getting top billing among the week-end specials of supermarkets and neighborhood groceries.

But there are lots of additional offerings on the bargain lists.

Rib roasts are the most widely advertised special. Prices in the New York metropolitan area are down four to 10 cents from last week.

One New York area chain's entire list of specials is made up of beef, including rib, round and chuck roasts and sirloin and porthouse steaks.

Broiling, frying and roasting chickens are widely featured as a favorite for hot weather dinner menus. Prices are generally lower. In Los Angeles, hen turkeys are among the bargains.

Pork and ham butts and bacon also are among specials in various sections of the country.

Scallops still are in heavy supply and are among special fish offerings at Baltimore and Pittsburgh. Also featured on the eastern seaboard are swordfish shrimp and crab.

Egg prices in the New York area rose this week to equal their highest level of the year with large whites selling for 63 cents a dozen.

Eggs dipped to their year's low of 43 cents a dozen on Feb. 3 and hit 63 cents first on March 23. Increases this week ranged from two to four cents a dozen, depending on the section of the country. Vegetables continued in extensive variety and good supply.

Classified as best buys are snap beans, cabbage corn, eggplant, most types of lettuce, endive escarole, bunch beets, radishes, green onions, nearby potatoes, kale and collards.

Good buys are carrots, eastern onions, spinach, mustard, nearby pascal celery, Italian and yellow squash and cauliflower.

Russet potatoes from Idaho Oregon and Washington are in the fairly good price range.

Excellent bargains are available in peaches, watermelons, cantaloupes and honeydews.

Limes and Thompson seedless grapes also are rated best buys among fruits.

Twining Lemnitzer Decker Norstad White
FAR-REACHING SHAKEUP LOOMS—Retirement of Gen. Nathan F. Twining as chairman of the joint chiefs of staff may signal a far-reaching shakeup in the military high command. Gen. Lyman Lemnitzer, Army chief of staff, is regarded as certain to succeed Twining. It is believed Lemnitzer will be succeeded by Gen. George H. Decker, longtime friend of President Eisenhower. Speculation says U. S. Air Force Gen. Lauris Norstad also may retire soon and be replaced by Gen. Thomas D. White as head of North Atlantic Treaty forces (NATO).

Woman Held For Posing as Official's Wife

MEDINA, Ohio (AP)—A greater Cleveland woman is in county jail on charges of trying to pass a big fat check while posing as the wife of State Auditor James A. Rhodes.

She was booked as Mrs. Janice Smeltzer, 42, of Parma. The sheriff's office, which charged her with intent to defraud, reported she is on parole from the Women's Reformatory at Marysville, where she was sent on a bad check charge.

Sterling Secrist, assistant cashier of the Citizens Bank in Wadsworth, near Akron, reported the woman appeared there last Thursday with a check for $37,500, drawn on the Old Phoenix National Bank in nearby Brunswick. Secrist said the woman identified herself as Mrs. Betty Rhodes, wife of the state auditor. She related that the check represented royalties from Rhodes' published books and asked to deposit $35,000, and take the rest in cash.

She talked about Rhodes' parents living in Sharon Twp. and gave an address in four digits. Secrist knew that addresses do not run to four figures in the township. Telling the bank in Brunswick, he learned no such check had been issued.

Secrist told the woman there would be a delay. As she left the Citizens Bank, a clerk obtained a license number.

Later, said the sheriff's office the same woman turned up at the Sharon Bank in Sharon Twp. with a $10,000 check which she failed to cash.

She was arrested Monday in a Cleveland factory where she was a machine operator.

TV Schools Open On September 1

F. R. Gregg, executive head of the Teays Valley School District, announced today that school will start September 1, with a full day of classes.

All bus routes will operate on the same schedule as at the close of school last year.

There was a small balance in the lunch fund last year so, the year will start with grades one to six inclusive paying 25 cents for lunches, and grades seven to twelve — 30 cents. All extra milk will be 2 cents per half pint to all students.

Madison, Duvall, South Bloomfield and Ashville Elementary will house all the pupils in grades one to six and the grades seven to twelve will attend the high school in those districts.

Millport grades one to six will go to South Bloomfield and grades seven to twelve will go to Ashville.

THERE HAVE been many changes in the high school curriculum since registration last spring and all high school students are advised to contact their respective high schools before school starts as their class schedules may need serious changes.

In an effort to eliminate small classes in the high schools and make room for three high schools to operate in the present buildings, a morning, noon, and night transportation system has been arranged.

Vocational Agriculture students and eleventh and twelfth Home Economics students at Ashville will be transported to Walnut.

All Physics and higher mathematics classes at Walnut and Scioto will be transported to Ashville. Many other small classes will be eliminated in all three schools and collected in one school under one teacher.

This will provide a curriculum so the students in all schools will have an opportunity to get more of the courses they need and will increase the room in the area.

This arrangement is only temporary and can only suffice for a short time. It is not satisfactory but stalls the half-day sessions for at least one more year and provides more opportunity for our present High School students, Gregg said.

Father Sues State In Boys' Death

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The father of two boys killed last Oct. 19 when a stolen state automobile ran into a group of school children here has filed a sundry claim against the state for $51,875.

Arden L. Kline, a sergeant assigned to Lockbourne Air Force Base, asked $50,000 damages plus expenses in the death of his two sons, Raymond, 4 and Randy, 7. They and Jane Bellah, 7, were killed when a car driven by Paul W. Graham 22, ran into a group of children waiting for a school bus.

Graham was driving a car assigned to the state auditor's office which had been stolen from a state parking lot. The claim, filed by Kline's attorneys, will go to the State Sundry Claims Board, since the state cannot be sued in court in such cases.

The White House derives its name from the color of the paint used to cover fire damage during the War 1812.

3 School Districts OK'd on Bond Issues

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The State Board of Tax Appeals has given three school districts permission to submit bond issue questions to voters Nov. 8. The districts—which want to add classrooms—and amounts sought are Upper Sandusky Exempted Village District $1,375,000, Frankfort Exempted Village (Ross County) $270,000 and Waterloo Local (Athens County) $125,000.

B y CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — One of television's fall heroes will be a fighting, brandy-belted lady killer called Michael Shayne.

Shayne, literary creation of author Brett Halliday, has slugged his way through 38 books and 12 movies. On Sept. 30, courtesy of NBC, he will come to the home screens in the person of Richard Denning.

In the Shayne books, the rugged sleuth seems to divide his time about equally between battling and boozing.

"I can't do much about the number of fights," confessed Denning. "But I've gradually been cutting down on Shayne's drinking. It seemed to me that the audience would get the impression that he was drunk all the time. So now I'm down to the point where, although I still fill the glass with cognac, I don't always knock off the whole thing at one gulp."

Denning is in a unique position. During the forthcoming season he will be portraying two famous fictional detectives at the same time.

It has been five years since the blond bronzed actor made the last of the "Mr. and Mrs. North" TV series, co-starring with Barbara Britten in a string of half-hour shows based on Frances and Richard Lockridge's popular characters. In re-run after re-run the Norths continue to pop up at odd hours on the nation's TV screens.

A recent visitor in Alfred Hitchcock's office, reports overhearing the following description by the master during a telephone call: "He's a nervous little man — wears brown shoes, you know."

Bob Hope apparently is feeling more like his old energetic self. After finishing a new movie with Lucille Ball, he took off on a fishing trip to British Columbia but cut it short to come back to Hollywood and take off on a series of one-night stands which will get him home in a couple of weeks. Singer Andy Williams, who says he'll never be another summer replacement, has been signed for TV's top guest spots: Perry Como, Dinah Shore and Bob Hope.

Year-Around Safety Program Is Urged

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Conducting intensified traffic safety campaigns during holiday periods, then relaxing, won't solve Ohio's death and injury problems, Highway Safety Director J. Grant Keys says.

Keys is suggesting a year-around program on a seasonal basis—for the summer holidays, the ice-snow-sleet weather of fall and winter, and in spring when wet weather is a hazard.

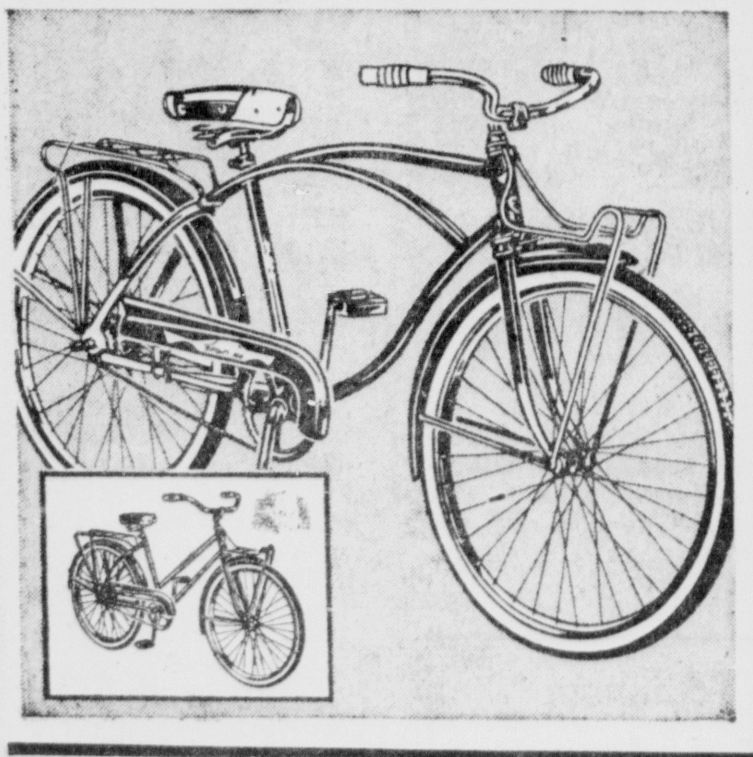

Finance Director Eyes State Funds

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Finance Director James H. Maloon said today he wants to study developments in the economy and progress on Ohio programs before estimating the year-end sopition of state general funds.

He denied reports from the governor's office that he had predicted the state would wind up the June 30 with about the same general fund balance as for the last fiscal year. The balance last June 30 was about 16 million dollars.

Maloon said there was an apparent misunderstanding in connection with his financial report to the governor for July. That report blamed a drop in revenues below estimates for a $36,172 over-commitment in operating funds.

Firman Springs His Pal from County Jail

The alleged kidnapping incident was first reported in Athens County Tuesday night when officers stopped a car near Nelsonville. In it were four teen-agers from Hamilton who told of being forced to accompany Firman. An occupant of the car believed to be Firman fled into the brush before officers could capture him. Another passenger was said to be a Lebanon man whose car Firman had taken.

While authorities were searching that area Mrs. Paul Boggs, a 55-year old housewife of Royalton, 12 miles west of Lancaster, said that a man choked her Wednesday when she refused to give him the food he asked for.

Fairfield County deputies said the man fled in a truck which generally matched the description of a 1960 model pickup truck taken from a Nelsonville garage during the night. Mrs. Boggs, after viewing a picture of Firman, said he was the man who choked her.

And at the same time, there were reports that a man looking like Firman was driving into Pickaway County.

In Circleville, the four Hamilton teen-agers who said they were abducted by Firman were released after being held by Pickaway County authorities for questioning in connection with two burglaries allegedly perpetrated by Firman while holding them hostage.

The youths, Jerry Utzler, 16, Gary Cozad, 19, Lloyd Doughty, 17, and Leroy Dees, 17, along with Donald Ray Center of Morrow were seized by Firman Tuesday following a chase through part of the downtown Hamilton area in a stolen automobile. That chase ended when the car in which Firman and Bernard Miner, 22, of Lima, were riding hit a parked vehicle. Miner was apprehended a few minutes later but Firman escaped.

The Utzler youth told police that he returned home about 1:30 p.m. Tuesday to find Firman at the house with a loaded pistol. Officers said the Utzler residence had been broken into and a jacket, trousers, pair of boots and other articles were taken. Firman had lost a shoe as he fled from the wrecked car in the Hamilton chase.

Utzler said Firman made him call Cozad to get a get-away car. Firman held Cozad hostage when he came to the house, and when Doughty and Dees came over to the house later, Firman also grabbed them.

The fugitive then forced the boys at gunpoint to leave the home and to get into Cozad's car with him. They drove to Morrow where they developed car trouble and were forced to accompany Firman on a round of teen-age places in that community in search of another car. Firman then commandeered Center's car at gunpoint and forced Center and the four youths to drive with him to Nelsonville.

The five were freed when the car was wrecked while being pursued by officers on Ohio 33 two miles west of Nelsonville.

Authorities say that Spunky Firman might very well be free today if he had not made the original jail escape last month. He had been charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor, but the boy's mother reportedly had decided not to press charges.

However, Firman has a long record of delinquency and such crimes as burglary and larceny.

Indiana Town Is Aroused By Slaying of Little Girl

BOONVILLE, Ind. (AP) — A convicted rapist accused of killing 11-year-old Avril (Honey) Terry was held under close guard today after an angry crowd of townspeople gathered outside the jail.

Emmett O. Hashfield, 53-year-old trinket maker, was ordered held without bail Wednesday on a preliminary charge of first-degree murder after the little girl's dismembered body was found.

Sheriff Robert E. Shelton and State Police Sgt. Wendolin Opel said Hashfield orally admitted dumping Avril's dismembered body on the Ohio River bank and in the river, 25 miles southeast of Boonville.

The little girl disappeared Tuesday on a trip downtown to buy candles for a birthday cake for her 8-year-old sister, Candace. Hashfield was arrested Tuesday night and at first denied any knowledge of the case.

His statement and discovery of the body came Wednesday.

Sheriff Shelton said a crowd of about 200 persons gathered outside the Warrick County Jail Wednesday night.

"They want a quick trial and they had a tree picked out across the street they wanted to use," Shelton said. He said that he saw no ropes but that several tomatoes were thrown at his deputies, two of them scoring hits.

Shelton said Hashfield paced his cell nervously but said nothing.

Hashfield wore overall pants and a blue shirt in his court appearance. He had a black eye and police said it was the result of a blow from Avril's father, Dr. Robert H. Terry, who had been allowed to question the man.

Police said Hashfield reported meeting the girl when he stopped to help her pick up some pennies she had dropped on the sidewalk. He said she accepted a ride in his car — something her parents had warned her not to do.

CHS Plans TV Physics Work

Supplemental Time
Provided by School

The Circleville High School physics classes have been scheduled so that they can take full advantage of the physics class taught at OSU and broadcast over WOSU-TV.

Students will spend the regular amount of time in class with text books and laboratory exercises. The TV program will be entirely supplementary each school day from 1 to 1:30 p. m.

According to George Hartman, superintendent of city schools, the TV course is thorough and will picture clearly many things that are hard to express in lectures. The cost for the films used in this course would be prohibitive to own. They are valued at $37,000.

Richard Beadle, physics instructor, will attend an all day "workshop" on August 30, in Columbus. It is to prepare the teachers of the Columbus area for maximum benefit from this TV physics course.

Master Plan For War Is Under Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new central agency will draw up a strategic war master plan stating which U.S. weapons will be used to hit specific targets behind the Iron Curtain if nuclear war should come.

Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr. Wednesday named Gen. Thomas S. Power director of the planning agency to be located at Omaha in conjunction with the Strategic Air Command headquarters. Power will continue to serve as SAC commander and will have an admiral as a deputy for the new agency.

A staff of about 40 top specialists will develop a long-range target program that will be under constant review. The plan is expected to be ready by December for approval of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

In announcing the new agency, Gates emphasized that the current strategic target plan is a good one. But he noted it is based largely on SAC's manned bomber force capabilities.

Formation of the new agency is expected to quell a long-smoldering argument between the Air Force and the Navy.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Fair and clear skies dominated Ohio over the night. Temperatures near sunrise today were in the upper 50s to middle 60s.

Ground fog was general over most of the state during the early morning hours, but was to lift rapidly and be followed by sunshine.

Today and Friday hot weather is forecast all over Ohio, with temperatures in most areas rising to the 90s.

Thundershower activity will possibly develop Friday evening in the western portion of the state, but cooler weather is not expected until the weekend.

Some early morning temperatures were Youngstown 56, Cleveland 64, Cincinnati 65 and Columbus 66.

Big Shawnee Forest Park Area Planned

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Creation of a recreational area in Shawnee Forest near Portsmouth rivaling Indiana's Brown County State Park was proposed today by Natural Resources Director Herbert B. Eagon.

The proposal to Gov. Michael V. DiSalle called for two new lakes near the present Lake Roosevelt and construction of roads, camping areas and other facilities.

Eagon proposed construction of a 47-acre lake on Turkey Run, northwest of Roosevelt, and a 42-acre lake in Mackletree Run, west of Roosevelt.

Creation of the two lakes would require the state to buy 486 acres of land. The total cost of the two projects was set at $412,958.

Eagon said the total was substantially less than the most conservative estimates for only the land needed for a Scioto County Lake, for which the legislature has appropriated $100,000.

He said that appropriation would be more than adequate to acquire all the land necessary for the two new lakes.

He proposed to start construction after July 1, 1961, subject to approval by the next legislature.

Stranahan Wins Ohio Open Crown

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Toledo's Frank Stranahan, his game honed razor sharp by professional tour competition, wore Ohio's Open Golf crown today.

The spark plug millionaire fired a 273 over Snyder Park Golf Club's 6052-yard course, 11 under par for the 72-hole 37th tournament completed Wednesday, to triumph by two strokes over a red-hot field.

Stranahan won the same event in 1948 as an amateur and is the only player ever to triumph both as a professional and as a simon-pure.

A scoring error in which Stranahan figured marred his conquest to some extent but in the final analysis the mistake made little difference. In the third round Stranahan was acting as scorer for his playing partner Joe Dodich of Newark, who led the first two rounds. Dodich still topped the scores were posted, but a transposition in hole scores, made inadvertently by Stranahan on Dodich's card, cost the Newark player a two-stroke penalty.

Dodich's soared to a 75 in the final round for a 280 total to wind up in a sixth place tie as Stranahan carded his second straight 68 to pick up the $800 first prize of the record 4,000 purse.

As he completed his final round, Stranahan declined to wait for the trophy presentation. He handed his caddy a $100 fee, asked tournament officials to mail his check and trophy and headed for the St. Paul, Minn. Open.

Two assistant professionals, Ab Justice of Warren and Earl Puckett of Barborton, chased Stranahan to the wire. They wound up tied for second with 275 as Justice scored a closing 67 and Puckett a 70. Puckett was the only player in the field to better par on all four rounds. He and Justice received $475 each for their efforts.

Frank Beley of Canton, who fired 66-69-69 to lead after three rounds, jumped to a 72 and fourth place at 276.

A dozen of the professionals finished under par for the 72-hole jaunt and the prize money was spread through the top 20 places. A five-place tie for the final $20 award gave each of the quintet a $4 payoff for the three days' play.

The amateur honors were split by two Columbus youths, Dave Daniels two-time state public links champion, and Mike Podolski, second placer in the last two public links tournaments. They wound up with 284—even par—to defeat their closest foes by six strokes.

Lee Raymond of Toledo, the defending champion who played the first three rounds one under par, withdrew as he jumped six strokes over par on the first five holes of the final round.

Steamin' Gets Invitation for Italian Trip

Steamin' Demon, the trotter-pacer par excellence owned by George W. Van Camp, has been invited to Rome, Italy along with American trotting champion Silver Song.

The invitation was extended to Steamin' and the Van Camps by Al Weil, chief director of Roosevelt Raceway in New York.

Mrs. Van Camp today said it has not been decided whether or not Steamin' will make the Italy trip. She said if Steamin' does make the journey, he also will race in Milan and other Italian areas during September.

Steamin' Demon finished second behind Silver Song in the American Trotting championship race last week, but was disqualified when he paced the distance.

The famous local product is the world's champion double-gaited stallion. His pacing mark is 1:58.4. His best trotting time is 1:59.1.

Ohio Polio Case Total Hits 21; Boy Dies

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's polio case total has reached 21, and what may be the first death from the disease has been reported. The Health Department said a Medina County boy died Aug. 12 from what appears to be bulbar polio, but that determination of cause is difficult after death.

8 Trotters Set For Champion Title of World

6 Nations Scheduled To Be Represented In $50,000 Event

NEW YORK (AP)—The second international trotting championship in the 154-year history of the sport will be held at nearby Roosevelt Raceway Saturday night.

Eight horses, representing six countries, are scheduled to compete in the mile-and-a-quarter race, which is called the International Trot.

Going to the gate in the $50,000 race will be Hairois of the Netherlands; Iton of Austria; Crevalcore, Tornese and Icare, each representing Italy; The Silk of Canada, Durban Chief of New Zealand and Silver Song of America.

The United States entry was decided last Saturday night in the $50,000 American Trotting Championship at Roosevelt.

The winning four-year-old horse, owned by the Mercury Stables of the Bronx, N.Y., edged such stalwarts as Steamin' Demon of Circleville, Ohio, and Senator Circle of Wilmington, Ohio, to gain entry into the world event.

Jamin, the French trotter who won the first international before 48,000 fans at Roosevelt Raceway last summer, will not compete. The horse suffered a recurrence of an injury to the left front hoof and was withdrawn.

Off recent races, the top foreign entrants are Hairois, who is driven and trained by William Geersen, and Tornese, who is handled by Sergio Brighenti.

Hairois, a 9-year-old black horse, is the European trotting champion. He succeeded Jamin in this role by winning six of the eight European championship races held this year.

In seventeen starts in 1960, Hairois finished in front twelve times. Four of his defeats occurred in races in which he gave big handicaps to the field. Two of Hairois' triumphs this year were at the expense of Jamin, including the Grand Prix d'Amerique which is considered Europe's most important trot. Hairois is owned by Andries Voordouw of the Hague.

Tornese, an 8-year-old chestnut horse, finished second to Jamin in last year's International. Tornese is owned by Commendatore Sebastiano Manzoni of Milan. Tornese defeated Jamin in three of their last four meetings and in two of three races in 1960.

Tornese, who along with Icare and Crevalcore is accustomed to racing on a half-mile track and he has an automotive starting gate, has split two meetings with Hairois. The Italian trotter's record this year is twelve victories and four second-place finishes in eighteen races. He has won about $350,000. That is the highest sum ever won by a European horse, trotter or runner.

Icare, who is owned by Commendatore Ivone Grassetto of Padua and Dr. Luigi Camurati of Milan, was co-holder of the Italian trotting championship last year. The 8-year-old horse, who is driven by Walter Baroncini, finished fourth in the first international, but was closing fast.

Crevalcore, driven by Vivaldo Baldi, long has been an outstanding trotter. In his four most recent meetings with Tornese, the 7-year-old Crevalcore won twice.

Maybe They Can't Win Flag, But Redlegs Sure Can Brawl

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds can be counted out in the National League pennant race, but when it comes to fighting they show no signs of tossing in the towel.

It has been many years since a team has been so belligerent in the old league.

Ill feeling began on May 2 when Vada Pinson, fleet outfielder, crashed into pitcher Roger Craig at Los Angeles, while attempting to score. Craig suffered a broken collar bone and was out of action several weeks.

Then on May 15 at Crosley Field, one of the best all-time fights in years occurred between the Phils and Cincinnati.

It started after pitches by Raul Sanchez, no longer with the Reds, hit three batters. Manager Gene Mauch of the Phils came rushing out of the dugout after a Sanchez pitch plunked pitcher Gene Conley in the back.

Pugnacious Billy Martin moved around and took a punch at 6-foot-8 Conley. Players were on the ground rolling around and punching away.

All appeared serene until Robin Roberts, one of the easiest going players in the game, made an unkind remark to Frank Robinson, Cincinnati first baseman. They squared off, but no blows were struck and Roberts apologized a few minutes later.

Veteran southpaw Joe Nuxhall really got in bad with league president Warren C. Giles on July 25 when he pushed umpire Eddie Vargo after a close play.

Another fight almost occurred on July 28 at Los Angeles when Pinson stepped on pitcher Larry Sherry's foot. It ended in a hot verbal battle.

It remained for the 165-pound Martin, who always seems to get into fights with fellows much taller and heavier than himself, to really irritate Giles.

On Aug. 4, at Chicago, Martin took a hard punch at pitcher Jim Brewer, whose face was injured so badly in the ensuing brawl, the hurler has been sidelined since. Martin's bat flew out of his hands on that occasion, but he said it was an accident that it went toward the pitcher's mound.

Brewer accused Martin of taking a "sucker punch" at him while he was not looking. Martin said he was tired of being dusted off.

Monday night Milwaukee's Eddie Mathews and Robinson tangled at third base. Robinson trying to stretch a double into a three-bagger, slid hard into the bag. They exchanged words and the battle was on.

Some Cincinnati fans think the name "Crosley Field" no longer fits the Reds' home ground. They think a good name would be "The Arena."

River Oil Set For District Play

River Oil, champions of the District No. 8 Softball Tournament at Chillicothe, meets the winner of the Ankrum District tomorrow in the State Tournament at Hamilton.

The game is set for 4 p. m. on diamond No. 2. Seven other games also are scheduled tomorrow.

The tournament continues Saturday, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Bold Ruler, in three seasons of racing, won 23 of 33 starts and $764,205.

Major League Picks All-Stars

Locals Eye Play In WCH Tourney

A Circleville Major League All-Star baseball team has been selected here to participate in a junior tournament at Washington, D. C.

First game for the local Stars is scheduled Monday at WCH. Their opponent will be announced.

The Circleville All-Stars, managed by Lee Smith, represent the best in the Majors division of the Little League here.

BPO Elks, winner of the league, and Coca Cola, the runnersup, each placed six baseballers on the class team. Ralston Purina landed two berths and The Herald one.

ELKS players named to the roster are Daryl Reichelderfer, Buddy Strehle, Jeff Ankrom, Terry Campbell, Bobby Dean and Ken Palmer.

Getting the nod from Coke are Chet and George Hill, Chip Harrod, Rick Congrove, Steve Dade and Larry Sykes.

Gary Leasure and Phil Smith were picked from the Purina team and Jim Diltz from The Herald.

Manager Smith said his Stars would be contacted concerning practices and preparations for games at Washington.

Cassady Fails To Make Cut

Tom Cassady, assistant to the Pickaway Country Club pro, yesterday shot a 80 at the National Jaycee golf tournament at Waterloo, Iowa.

That, combined with a cool 84 Tuesday, gave him a 164 in the 36-hole qualifier for the national championship—six strokes above the 158 cut-off line for the Class A title.

Tom now begins a 36-hole Class B tourney. He said that he has been off his game badly, but seemed to get the feel again on the last five holes yesterday, but it was too late.

Lima Defeated In Legion Meet

PRINCETON, Ind. (AP)—Berwy gill, pushed over a run in the 11th inning to defeat Lima, Ohio, 8-7 in the opening game of the American Legion Junior Baseball Regional 5 tournament Wednesday.

Bay City, Mich., defeated St. Louis 8-4 and Owensboro, Ky., beat Princeton 4-2 in other first-round games in the double-elimination tourney.

Lima scored first with a pair of runs in the top half of the third inning, but Berwyn built up a 6-2 lead through the sixth. Lima scored three in the seventh and went ahead with two in the ninth, but Berwyn tied the score with a run in the ninth.

Detroit Tiger base runners were thrown out trying to steal only 17 times in 1959. It tied the American League record for fewest times caught.

Circleville Baseball Loops Slate Annual Fete August 27

The Circleville Little and Babe Ruth Leagues will hold their annual Picnic August 27 at Ted Lewis Park.

Activity will start at 6 p. m. with the picnic at the shelter-house area. A glittering awards program will get under way at 8 p. m. on the softball diamond.

Players, managers, parents, relatives and friends are invited. Each family or group is requested to bring its own food and table service.

The concession booth will be open to handle refreshments. George Hamrick, local agriculture extension agent and baseball enthusiast, will serve as toastmaster. He will be assisted by members of the Baseball Board of Directors.

TROPHIES will be presented to the three league-winning teams. They are General Electric in the Babe Ruth, BPO Elks in the Majors and Jaycees in the Minors.

Managers and members of the championship teams will be introduced.

Also slated for recognition are the top hitters and pitchers in each league. Other introductions include all team managers and the directors of this year's Kiwanis-backed program.

Tribe Slated For 2 Games Against Sox

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians have their work cut out for them tonight as they try to sweep a two-game series from the Chicago White Sox.

They will be facing their old nemesis, Billy Pierce, the leading Sox winner at 12 games who has a 4-0 mark against them this season.

Jim Grant (7-5) will open for the Indians.

The Indians broke a 2-2 deadlock with an unearned run in the eighth inning Wednesday night to take a 3-2 decision.

Johnny Klippstein, who pitched the last two innings in relief of starter Jim Perry, was the winner. It was his fourth victory of the season and his third over the White Sox, whom he has held to one run and six hits in 16 innings of relief work.

The winning run scored on a sacrifice fly to center field by Tito Francona. Harvey Kuenn led off with a line drive double to right-center to start the winning rally against Gerry Staley, the Sox reliever ace, who took the mound duty from starter Bob Shaw with one out in the seventh.

Kuenn moved to third on a sacrifice bunt by Vic Power, who was safe at first when catcher Sherm Lollar fumbled the ball, and then scored on Francona's fly.

Junior Baseballers In for Treat at Ohio State Fair

Junior baseball players throughout Ohio will be in for a special treat September 2 when the gates of the Ohio State Fair swing open especially for them.

Arrangements have been made with officials of the Ohio State Fair to admit all junior baseball players in uniform to the fairgrounds free of charge. The only requirement for free admission is that the boys wear uniforms representing any of the following teams: American Legion, Colt, Little League, Pony, Babe Ruth and Knot Hole Gangs.

No tickets will be needed by these boys. All junior baseball players will be admitted to the Christiani Brothers Circus at half price. The Gooding Amusement Co. will reduce the price of midway rides to half price for the future stars of the major leagues.

Efforts are being made to bring to the Ohio State Fair several well known major league stars to help the youngsters celebrate their day on September 2.

Fierce Nationalistic Spirit Gives Drive to Red Athletes

MOSCOW (AP) — Although the Russians like to say politics have no part in their sports picture, a fierce nationalistic spirit nevertheless permeates the Soviet's drive to athletic glories.

"Long live the Communist party of the Soviet Union!" reads a huge Red banner stretched across the 70,000-seat Lenin Stadium, where the Olympic trials are staged.

Giant medallions bearing the hammer and sickle and other Communist insignia hang from the ceiling of the Palace of Sports, scene of basketball, gymnastics and other events.

Soviet officials and athletes make no effort to conceal the fact that they are dedicated to a program of world wide sports superiority and that America, with its long time role as an athletic giant, is a particular target.

"Certainly, we like to beat America," said one top Olympic official in an interview, "but only because America is very strong—and we want to be stronger. The Americans remain our very best friends in sports."

The famed Russian decathlon star, Vladimir Kuznetsov, says he considers America's Rafer Johnson one of his strongest friends.
"I work hard to beat him and he strives to beat me," says the brilliant all-round Soviet athlete,
"but there is no bitterness — only high respect. That is how it should be."

The Soviet's flaming urge to gain athletic dominance is "stoked by the government, which offers every enticement to sportsmen."

Workers are encouraged to join athletic clubs of which there are hundreds scattered throughout the Soviet Union. Every factory has a society, every society its own athletic club.

An example is the Wings of Soviet Club, located at 24-A Leningrad Ave.

Stroll into this club at any time and you are apt to find gymnasts whirling through routines on rich oriental rugs in one place, with boxers, wrestlers and handball players active in others.

The club has 1,900 adult members, 1,200 children. The fee is 3 rubles (thirty cents) a year per family. This club, just one of many in the neighborhood, boasts sixty masters of sports.

In the hall hangs a flag with this inscription from the late Comrade Stalin: "Grow up a new generation to make them healthy and cheerful and they will defend the country from all who attack it."

Ivan Kuzmich Ochnev, a big, bushy-haired man, runs the club,
an unpretentious yellow stone building of three floors which is hidden behind a tall fence off Leningrad Avenue.

"This is just an average club," he explained. "We accept members of any trade. Some of our bigger clubs are connected with the work societies."

"Our members are mostly workers who live in this neighborhood.
They work in the factory all day,
come here in the late afternoon and night for training." Their families come with them.

7 Yank Entrants Falter in Canada

OTTAWA (AP)—Seven of the American entrants, including Ed
Meister Jr. of Willoughby, Ohio, were eliminated Wednesday as the Canadian Amateur golf tournament field was reduced from 64 to 16.

Meister went 19 holes with Brian McGuigan of Montreal before losing 1 up and leaving Mark Darnell of Lafayette, Ind., the sole U.S. survivor. Another casualty was medalist Bill Hyndman III of Philadelphia.

Olympic Reporter Role Denied Owens

ROME (AP) — The great Jesse Owens, who won four gold medals for the United States at the 1936 Olympics in Berlin, can't get into the Rome Olympics — as a reporter.

As a one time Olympic star however, he's getting a warm welcome.

Owens' application for accreditation as a reporter for an American magazine (Ebony) was turned down.

"Too late," said a spokesman for the U.S. Olympic Committee,
"and for no other reason. We accredited all American correspondents on a first-come first-served basis."

Battlefield, winner of the 1950
Futurity, won 22 of 44 starts in four years of racing. The chestnut horse earned $74,721 for George D. Widener.

Powers Gives New Testimony In Soviet Trial

To a series of questions, Powers agreed that Pakistan authorities must have known that his U2 plane was to operate from Peshawar, although he denied personal knowledge that such authority had been given.
The prosecutor also returned to the Soviet contention that Powers was prepared to fly to his destination, Bodoe, Norway, over neutral countries such as Sweden and Finland if his fuel ran low, a point the Soviets have been making in hopes of arousing anti-American feeling in those countries.

Rudenko asked about the route Powers took in a flight in 1958 from a Turkish air base to Bodoe. "I took off from Turkey, flew over part of Turkey, then Greece, Italy," he said, and after a long pause added, "either France, Austria or Switzerland—I don't remember."
It was the first time anything had been said about American flights over neutral Austria and Switzerland. Powers went on to say that he continued that flight over West Germany, possibly over Denmark, and then to Norway.

Powers' Soviet defense attorney, Mikhail I. Griniov, asked if Powers commanding officer, Col. William Shelton, was particularly interested in Soviet rocket sites and whether any had been marked on the chart for the May 1 flight. "He mentioned one site as probably a rocket launching site," Powers replied.

"Was not the main objective to locate rocket sites?" Griniov continued.

"I have only my own opinion," Powers said. "The experts who studied the film (taken by equipment in the U2) will know what Col. Shelton was interested in."

Powers added: "In my own opinion there is much interest, not only by the military but by all peoples of the world in Soviet rockets."

This brought agitation and some low laughter from the audience.

During the testimony Barbara Powers sat quietly in the family's box, dressed in a black and white checked suit and the large black hat she has worn ever since she arrived in Moscow. She appeared to be in full control of herself although obviously suffering from tremendous nervous strain.

The prosecution injected a note of mystery into the testimony when Rudenko reminded Powers that he was carrying a piece of black cloth when he was captured near Sverdlovsk, after his plane was brought down 1,200 miles inside Soviet territory.

Powers said he did not know the purpose of the black cloth but that he was to give it to a member of the 10-10 detachment to which he was assigned.

After Powers finished testifying, the prosecution began calling to the stand persons from the Sverdlovsk region who captured the pilot after he parachuted into the Ural Mountain area from his damaged plane.

The witnesses testified that they heard a loud explosion on the morning of May 1, saw a parachute descending and ran toward it.

Only after they helped Powers out of his parachute and helmet did they discover he was a foreigner, they said.

They said he carried a long-barreled pistol and what the Soviets described as "an English knife," in America called a hunting knife. They took him to the nearest village and turned him over to the local security police.

P. E. Asabin said he jumped off the roof of a house where he was working and ran to the pilot. He helped him deflate his parachute. When Asabin completed his testimony, Powers was asked by

Spelling Key to Good School Marks Say Nation's Teachers

Poor spelling can pull down your child's grades in social studies, reading, science, and other school subjects, say the nation's elementary school teachers. Many teachers mark down book reports, project notebooks, and test papers because they contain spelling and grammatical errors.

Why is spelling so difficult for many children? "Learning to spell English is hard work," according to the National Education Assn., in its booklet "How To Help Your Child Learn." "Johnny would have an easier time of it with Spanish or Finnish, which are far more consistent in their rules."

Most schools concentrate on teaching children a list of about 3000 English root words that make up 98 percent of the words both adults and children use in written expression. About 20 percent of these words don't follow the regular alphabetical rules, and these are probably the ones that are giving your child trouble.

Here are ways, suggested by the NEA, in which parents can help their children improve in spelling: First, make sure that your child has no physical handicaps which may be holding him back, a speech defect, faulty hearing, or poor vision. If you suspect anything of the sort, have him examined immediately.

HAVE HIM make his own dictionary of "demon" words that plague him. Get him a scrapbook and have him devote one page to each alphabetical letter. As he masters the "demon," he enters it on the proper page.

Give your child the fun of adventuring with words. Encourage him to make a list of new and interesting ones he comes across. Play games with words. Oral riddles are fun. For example: "I'm thinking of a four-letter word that means sharp (keen). What is the word and how do you spell it?" Or ask him how many "happy" words he knows how to spell (gay, cheerful, merry, smile, jolly). How many "sad" words? How many "holiday" words?

Encourage him to write frequent notes to other children and to relatives as thank-you's for parties and gifts. Check with him to see that all words are spelled properly and that the note is legible.

Observe how avidly your child watches television commercials, and turn this interest into a spelling game. Ask him to name the products he sees advertised, and to spell them. Aspirin, automobiles, bread, bottles, soap, shampoo, shave—the list is endless.

Give him his own dictionary. He will use it faithfully, if you give him the good example of "looking up" the spelling of words.

Fall Upturn In Business Under Study

Summer Lull Rated Average, but Signs Of Rebound Lacking

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—With the third quarter of the year just past the halfway point, business too is totting up:

1. How much of a lull the summer has brought in industrial and trade activities.

2. How strong are the signs of a business upturn in the fall.

At the midway point the best answers seem to be: The summer lull was just about what was expected in most fields subject to this seasonal cycle and also in those going through their own individual recessions this year. But most signs of a strong rebound are either lacking or delayed beyond expectations or hopes.

On either side of this view are the optimists and the pessimists. Both are offering predictions freely, some based on current statistics and some on guesses on what the current lull is building up to.

Those who think that 1950 has seen its worst days and that the year will go down in the books as a short readjustment to reality after over-enthusiastic hopes, make these points:

Industrial production held steady in July. The Federal Reserve Board's index was two points below its record high of the first of the year, but one point better than a year ago. This could mean it has hit bottom for this cycle and is ready to move higher as industry gets going in the fall.

Employment has climbed to a new high, even if four million persons are still out of work.

Consumer spending has stayed high—strong buying in the non-durable fields offsetting a letup in durable purchases.

Money and credit are getting easier, laying the groundwork for a pickup in business and consumer borrowing, when and if the businessman and his customers decide to step up their activities.

But happy as they are that the downturn that started in the early spring hasn't developed into a steep slide, many are unconvinced that the present situation foretells much of an upturn in the fall. They note these deterrents:

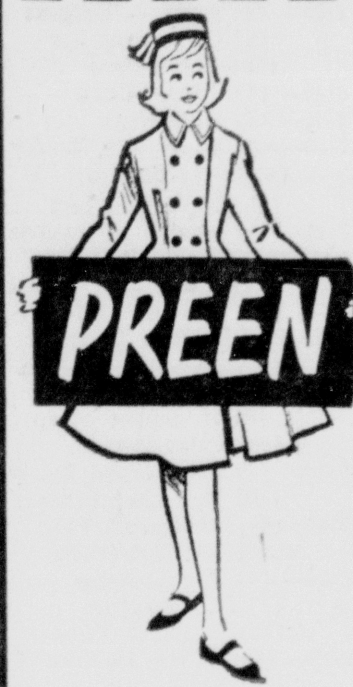

The stock market shows no signs of expecting a new boom. And the market has a big effect on public thinking.

DEAR CUSTOMER:

School opens in a few days. That means your children will need paper supplies, notebooks, lunch boxes — perhaps a new fountain pen. This is just a note to remind you that we have a complete line of Back-to-School needs in a convenient, one-stop shopping section.

While you're in the pharmacy, ask about the "Back-to-School" vitamin, Super Plenamins. Super Plenamins will help protect your school-age children by keeping them well nourished and healthy — a healthy child can more easily avoid the numerous colds he's exposed to during the school day. Keep a bottle of Super Plenamins on the breakfast table — help keep the entire family in good health throughout the winter.

Sincerely,
NORMAN KUTLER
